ABOUT ME

From chef to developer, with an academic background in psychology. Alongside nine years in professional kitchens, I taught myself to program, and since 2025 I've been working as a developer. The kitchen taught me to deliver under pressure in tightly coordinated teams, and I enjoy working where technology meets the business. Strong in front-end and expanding into back-end.

SKILLS

Languages: JavaScript, TypeScript, Python, ColdFusion

Front-end: React, Next.js, Vue.js, HTML, CSS

Back-end & Data: Node.js, Apache Solr, Django, PostgreSQL

AI: Claude Code

Other: Git, GitHub (Actions), Playwright, Jira, Figma, Netlify

EXPERIENCE

Junior developer

Accessify, Alkmaar

March 2025 - present

- Collaborated with a multidisciplinary (agile) team of developers, designers and product owners on a SaaS product spanning CMS, PIM, CRM, e-commerce and more.
- Monitored and optimized platform performance, with a focus on Core Web Vitals and technical SEO.
- Built a fully configurable product filter that uses Solr queries to let users efficiently filter assortments of thousands of products, configurable per client across a platform of 50+ B2B websites.
- Automated end-to-end tests with Playwright and GitHub Actions, surfacing failures in core client processes (forms, quote requests, shopping cart) immediately.
- Served as first point of contact for stakeholders on CRM and e-commerce functionality, translating business needs into concrete requirements and priorities.
- Overhauled a legacy e-commerce platform, resolving critical bugs and restructuring it for frequent, reliable releases. Cut the time to onboard new B2B webshop clients from months to weeks.
- Stack: JavaScript, Playwright, GitHub Actions, Apache Solr, Figma, ColdFusion

Chef de partie, Sous chef, head chef

Amsterdam and surroundings

April 2016 - March 2025

- Worked freelance and in employment across a range of kitchens, from fine dining to catering.
- As sous chef and head chef, led a kitchen brigade of 10 people, including scheduling, onboarding new team members and coordinating tasks during service.
- Responsible for menu development, purchasing and cost control.
- As a freelancer, quickly adapted to constantly changing teams and workflows.
